

The images of the skull painted in bright happy colors are in line with the tradition of Mexican Days of the Dead or Dias de Los Muertos. The objects of art presented reflect the very Mexican idea of celebrating life through the celebration of Death.

For centuries the Nahuatl Communities of the State of Guerrero, Mexico have mastered the production of clay and terracotta objects of daily and decorative use. From the Spanish, they learned the Majolica and Talavera glazing techniques used in these fun decorations.

Following the colorful patterns originally created by Otomi communities in Puebla State for amate paper (bark fiber paper), the Nahuatl painted them on ceramic objects. Bright festive scenes, fantastic bird shapes and colorful geometric floral designs became more prevalent.

DT 663 Small
Ceramic Skull $5.00
2.5 x 3 in
Assorted colors

DT-662B Smaller
Medium $7.00
4x 3.5 in

DT-662A Larger
Medium $8.00
4.5 x 4 in

DT-661A X large $14.00
6.5 x 6.5 in

DT-661C Large $13.00
5.5 x 5 in

DT-663M
Magnet $ 3.00

DT-663B Mini $2.50
Same size salt and pepper
shaker 2.80

DT 667B about 4 in
Skull Shaped Box-Dome
$5.50 Assorted colors

DT 667A about 4in
Skull Shaped Box-Flat
$5.50 Assorted colors

DT-661CR Large, Rose $12.00
6.5 x 6.5 in

DT-661R Med. Rose $8.00
4.25x 4 in

Relative sizes.
Small to x large

Ceramic Catrina and Catrin figures

@10-11 inches at
$10.0 0
@13- inches at
$13.0 0

Large masks
DT668A
8.5x 6.5 in $12.00

Ceramic Masks

Medium mask 5x4 in $ 8.00
DT668B

Ceramic Fridita, DOD
$16.00 9x5 in

Castillo Family tradition from Izucar

P96 A & B $32
5.75x4.5"

MP-34M $23 3"

MP-32M $35 5x6"

MP-31M
DOD candleholder nativity
$12 3.5x3"

P53 $ 8.00 2 3/4"

P53 G $ 8.00 2 3/4"

Clay Animals

Puebla Day of the Dead Nativity
$19.00 2"

Paper Mache
Figures

Paper mache Catrina, Catrin and Skeleton Frida. A great item.
$22.00

Day of the Dead Loteria $6.50

Window Pane Skulls
Small assorted colors 3in. $5.00
Large $9.00